

Hero Grid

DIRECTIONS: Before you choose a hero to research, you should look into lots of people who are considered heroes. Follow the steps below to research potential heroes:

- Log onto our ELA class website: www.kemplanglaisela.yolasite.com
- Click on the tab for “Handouts and Units of Study” and scroll down to the Hero Project
- Click on each one and look around at people listed on each site
- When you find someone who interests you, read a bit about him/her and write some ideas on why he/she might be considered a hero

Source See Links on Hero Page	Hero Name	Role Model because...
http://myhero.com/go/directory/
Nobel Peace Prize Winners
50 Women Who Changed History
NBC Sports Top Female Athletes
Sports Illustrated Top 100 North American Male Athletes
PBS American Masters
Adult Interview: who is a hero to you, and why?
Google search 1 person from the list on the back of this paper		